Arizona began funding state preschool education programs in 1991. In 1996, the state began using the Arizona Early Childhood Block Grant (ECBG) to fund prekindergarten. The ECBG additionally funds supplemental services for full-day kindergarten and first through third grades. To be eligible for an ECBG prekindergarten program, children must be 4 years old by September 1 and must be from a family with an income at or below 185 percent of the federal poverty level. ECBG funds for preschool education are distributed to school districts, which can then provide funding to Head Start or private child care providers if parents prefer those settings for their children. Preschool programs receiving ECBG funding are required to be accredited by organizations approved by the state, such as the National Association for the Education of Young Children.

ECBG prekindergarten teachers are currently required to have only a high school diploma or GED. However, effective July 1, 2009, all new pre-K teachers will be required to have an Arizona Early Childhood Certification, which requires a BA degree and passing a written assessment of early childhood subject knowledge. The Arizona Early Childhood Certification became available for the first time in 2005, but was not required.

A formal evaluation was conducted over a three-year time period and completed in July 2008. It included a review of financial accounting practices, distribution of grant monies, expenditures, and the department’s monitoring of preschool providers.

In an effort to further support developmental and health initiatives for young children, in 2006 Arizona established First Things First (FTF), a state agency designed to support local and state level programs to provide high-quality early education services for children from birth through age 5. Working with the Arizona Department of Education, in 2009 FTF plans to allocate $90 million through statewide and regional initiatives to provide information and education to families and to the Early Childhood Education field through quality improvement incentives, a statewide quality rating system, T.E.A.C.H. scholarships, home visiting, mental and dental health services, kin training, and numerous other projects to expand and enhance access to high-quality early childhood services throughout the state.

1 Most ECBG programs operate 4 hours per day; 3-5 days per week for the academic year. It is recommended that programs operate at least 12 hours per week.
2 As of July 1, 2009, all pre-K teachers in settings funded by ECBG must hold an early childhood certification, which requires a bachelor’s degree. Since 2005, most programs have hired new staff who have or are eligible for the EC certification or endorsement. The Arizona Department of Education is working closely with the community colleges and universities to offer scholarships and onsite classes to allow current teachers to work toward a BA in ECE.
3 Assistant teachers must have at least a high school diploma. The exception is for assistants in Title I schools, who must have an AA per NCLB requirements.
4 The state licensing agency requires licensed programs, including all ECBG pre-K programs, to provide meals depending on the length of time and the time of day a child attends. A child present at or before 8 am must be served breakfast; a child present between 11 am and 1 pm must be served lunch; and a child present at or after 5 pm must be served dinner. Children present between 2 and 4 hours must be served at least one snack; if present between 4 and 8 hours, one meal and at least one snack; and if present for 9 or more hours, at least one meal and two snacks.

* Pre-K programs may receive additional funds from federal or local sources that are not included in this figure.
 K–12 expenditures include capital spending as well as current operating expenditures.
Data are for the '07-'08 school year, unless otherwise noted.
